ANOTHER CITY LINES UP WITH PROGRESSIVES

By Almost Unanimous Vote Wilmington Adopts The Commission Form of Government.

Wilmington, March 15.—Probably the most decisive victory ever gained by any cause at the polls in this city was recorded for commission government in the election held today. The commission movement swept every ward in the city. Eleven hundred and seventy-four votes were polled and of this number 1152 were cast in favor of the commission. The opposition was able to muster but 22 votes.

There was no new registration, but a number of new names were added to the registration books of the city. The election was merely for the purpose of allowing the people of the city to say whether they wanted the commission form of government or not. That they did is shown by the result. The officers will be nominated in a general primary to be held on the second Monday before the general election in May, the plan being drawn largely after the Des Moines plan.

Third Ward Registration Books Missing.

It was discovered yesterday that the old registration books in the Third ward had been lost or stolen. Mr. A. G. Hankins, the registrar, was under the impression that an entirely new registration was required and made no complaint of the books being missing, until some time during the day. Where the books had gone to, no one seemed to be able to tell. The books are kept i na vault at the office of the City Clerk and Treasurer and when they were gotten out, it was not noticed until yesterday that the books for the Third ward were missing. Only about 80 new names had been registered and the Mayor, Chairman Cameron MacRae, of the Board of Education, City Attorney McClammy and others at once got busy. It was decided after a long conference last night that inasmuch as it would be manifestly unjust to deny the right of franchise to voters in the Th ward who are registered, to allow all to vote who present themselves and take the necessary oath as to registration.

It is not thought that this will affect the legality of the election for at worst the third ward vote could only be thrown out and the vote in the remainder of the wards will show the voters overwhelmingly in favor of the plan.

Moss is Held For Higher Court

Before United States Commissioner D. H. Collins yesterday morning at ten o'clock W. V. Moss was given a preliminary hearing on the charge of impersonating a revenue officer. Moss was represented by David Stern and Hudson & Swift. Evidence was introduced to show that Moss on last Saturday visited several places, notably the Elks' club, Kings' cigar store, John T. Rees', and inspected the goods on sale, after handing in his card on which was printed, "W. V. Moss, General Revenue Officer." He also showed a badge with the words "general revenue officer," stamped thereon. Counsel for the defense did not introduce any testimony, but contended that the charge as stated in the warrant did not constitute an offense against the United States government. Commissioner Collins then amended the warrant to read "impersonating a United States revenue officer with intent to defraud." He reserved his decision but later in the day decided there was probable cause and held Moss under a bond of $500 for his appearance at the June term of United States court.

Moss, it will be remembered, had his fake cards printed at the office of the J. C. Pierce Printing Company and while there he stole a revenue officer's badge, which had been ordered for O. A. Starbuck. It was this stolen badge that he displayed while inspecting the various places. He threw this badge away before being placed in jail but it was later found just outside the jail. Justice Collins yesterday afternoon issued a state warrant against Moss, charging him with the larceny of the badge, which cost $1.50. He will be tried on this charge this morning at 10 o'clock before Justice Collins.

METHODIST BOARD OF EDUCATION ASSEMBLES IN MONTGOMERY, ALA.

GREAT MEETING IN INTEREST OF DENOMINATIONAL EDUCATION WILL BRING TOGETHER LEADERS OF SOUTHERN METHODISM.

Montgomery, Ala., March 15.—The program for the annual meeting of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which takes place April 6, is now complete. Immediately following the meeting of the board, the educational conference will begin and will continue through Sunday, April 9. In point of timely addresses upon problems confronting the church colleges of today, and Southern educational conditions generally, the convention will rank high in the educational events of the year. An unusual number of well known speakers prominent in church and college circles are down for addresses. Prof. R. L. Flowers of Trinity College will respond in behalf of the visiting delegates to the address of welcome of Dr. B. J. Baldwin, for the city of Montgomery. Bishop Kilgo will make the opening address of the conference on "The Debt of the Nation to the Church College." The complete program follows:

Would Cut Down Court Expenses

Auditor Abbott is compiling some figures regarding the saving made by the county as a result of the Municipal court in order that the County Commissioners may know whether the county court would be a paying proposition. While he has not yet completed his figures Mr. Abbott finds that during the first year of the Municipal court the county saved something over $3,000 in court costs. This too in the face of the fact that during the first year of the Municipal court there were extra terms of civil court to clear the calendar. It is understood that High Point is against the court because the county was not divided and half given to the High Point court. However, it is believed that the commissioners will decide to establish the court.

BATTLEGROUND COMPANY WILL CONTINUE ITS PATRIOTIC WORK

New Directors And Officers Elected by Stockholders--Committee to Have Charge of Fourth of July Celebration.

At the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Guilford Battleground company yesterday afternoon it was decided to continue the patriotic work begun by the founders of this patriotic organization. The directors elected by the stockholders met after the stockholders adjourned and elected officers and decided on the work for the coming year. It was unanimously decided to hold the annual celebration on July 4 and a committee was appointed to arrange the details. The president's report to the stockholders, which is given below, was one of encouragement.

The stockholders elected the following directors: Neil Ellington, Wm. Love, W. E. Bevill, Chas. M. Stedman, Jas. E. Boyd, Jas. T. Morehead, Jr., J. A. Odell, J. W. Scott, R. M. Douglas, J. W. Fry, J. Van Lindley, Paul W. Schenck. The directors elected the following officers: President, Paul W. Schenck; first vice president, J. W. Fry; second vice president, W. E. Bevill; treasurer, J. W. Scott; secretary, Wm. Love.

It is a noticeable fact that of the five original stockholders J. W. Scott is the only member now on the board of directors. He has served continuously as treasurer since the company was organized in 1887. The original incorporators were David Schenck, J. W. Scott, Julius A. Gray, Dr. D. W. C. Benbow, Thos. B. Keogh.

It was decided to have a committee in charge of the details of the celebration in July, this committee to be appointed by the president. The president was also instructed to appoint a committee to have charge of the erection of a monument to the memory of the late president, Jos. M. Morehead; also one to have charge of the grounds. It is hoped to have the monument to Major Morehead ready for unveiling by the Fourth. It is not likely that the Greene monument can be completed before the celebration in 1912.

President Schenck's report follows:

"Since its organization the Guilford Battleground company has held its annual meeting on the 15th of March, the anniversary of the battle. For years past, these meetings have been called by with a feeling of irreparable loss and deep sorrow that we come to this first meeting without him.

"In pursuance to the purpose expressed in these resolutions passed by our board, a committee should be provided for at this meeting to have in charge the details of the erection of a monument to Major Morehead at the Battleground.

"Probably the most important single event in the history of the battleground is the recent passage of a bill appropriating $30,000 for a monument to Gen. Nathanael Greene, on the battlefield. Not only has the bill been passed, but by having it included in the civil sundry bill, the money is made immediately available and the work may begin at once. We have great cause for congratulations.

"Copies of the resolutions in appreciation of the services of Hon. John M. Morehead, Hon. Lee S. Overman, and Hon. Charles R. Thomas were duly forwarded. We have cordial acknowledgements from each of these gentlemen, all expressing the hope of being with us on the occasion of the unveiling. These letters are submitted herewith. We also wrote a letter to Speaker Cannon, and we have a letter from him in acknowledgement, he, too, expressing the hope of being with us when the monument is unveiled.

"I am also glad to be able to report that the North Carolina legislature has passed our annual appropriation bill. This bill was in charge of our senator, Mr. Hobgood, and we are due him and our representatives, Messrs. Dillard and Kirkman, our thanks for their work in connection with it.

"Largely through the efforts of Marshall DeLancey Haywood, its secretary, the North Carolina Society of the Sons of the Revolution will present to our company a reproduction of a flag which was carried at the battle of Guilford courthouse. The original was given to, and is now in possession of the grand lodge of Masons of North Carolina. This flag will be a unique and valuable ac-

REV. KIRKMAN'S FUNERAL THURSDAY

Rev. Abel Gardner Kirkman died Tuesday night at 10:30 o'clock at his home near Friendship following an extended illness. The news of his death will be learned with sorrow by his thousands of friends throughout the county and this section of the State.

Rev. Mr. Kirkman was 66 years of age. He is survived by three brothers—Seymour A. Kirkman, of Friendship; J. C. Kirkman, of Waverly, Washington State; D. W. Kirkman, of Albany, Ga.; and three sisters—Miss Emily Kirkman, of Friendship; Mrs. L. K. Stanton, of Winston, and Mrs. Mary Handcock, of Iowa.

The funeral will be held from the Methodist church at Friendship this morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. R. Ware and Rev. Mr. Bowles. A large number of friends of the deceased will go out from Greensboro to attend the funeral. The county offices will be closed from 10 to 12 o'clock out of respect to his memory and a number of the county officers will attend the funeral.

Rev. Mr. Kirkman was probably the most widely known man in the county. For twenty years he served the county as register of deeds, leaving that office last December. But it was not as an officer that he was so widely known, despite the fact that he was called upon almost daily to perform a marriage ceremony in connection with his duties in issuing marriage licenses to prospective brides and grooms. Rev. Mr. Kirkman until his health failed him something like a year ago rarely passed a week without preaching one or more sermons, and sometimes he assisted in protracted meetings in various churches through the county.

It was as a minister more than as an official that Rev. Mr. Kirkman, "Uncle Abe," as he was known to everybody, won for himself the love and esteem of practically every citizen in the county. He was ever ready to assist those in needy circumstances and no person, white or colored, was ever given the deaf ear when they turned to Uncle Abe for assistance. These appeals came to him almost daily and he did not wait for appeals if he knew of a family in need he was always ready and willing to assist without having to be called upon. While his was the broadest type of charity yet so quiet and unassuming was he that no one but his closest friends knew of his charitable work to any extent. It can be truthfully said that a small fortune was given away by Mr. Kirkman to persons in needy circumstances.

As an officer of the county his duties were performed in the most conscientious manner and his work was highly efficient. He introduced many new methods and when he went out of the office last December the office of Register of Deeds of Guilford county was one of the best equipped of its kind in the State, if not the best. Had it not been for his declining health it is quite likely that Mr. Kirkman would have succeeded himself as no person could say aught against the manner in which the affairs of the office were conducted.

The office of register of deeds was draped with mourning yesterday and Uncle Abe's favorite chair was also draped as a token of respect. The county officers and clerks united in sending a handsome floral design to be placed on

ASSESSORS WILL BE APPOINTED MONDAY, APRIL 3

Eighteen Assistants For Guilford Will Work During May And June—Full Value Assessment.

The County Commissioners will on Monday, April 3, appoint one freeholder from each of the eighteen townships in the county to be assistant assessors to the county assessor, who will be appointed by the State Tax Commission for the purpose of assessing real estate in the county for taxation. The work of the assessors will be done during the months of May and June. The machinery act of the recent legislature requires that all property be assessed for taxation at its real value in money.

All real property is reassessed every fourth year and after the assessment period is closed all complaints are made before the county board of equalization and the complaints adjusted. Inasmuch as there is some little change this year it is of interest to know the plan of procedure.

The legislature devoted some little time to the consideration of a plan whereby the assessments could be more generally equalized throughout the entire state. Accordingly the State Tax Commission, which is none other than the Corporation Commission, was instructed to appoint an assessor for each county in the state, this assesor to supervise the work of the township assessors to be appointed by the commissioners of the several counties. The county assessor is to be an experienced and practical business man. He shall work as much as three months in each year and receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commissioners, not to exceed $4 per day. This assessor shall meet with the assistant assessors and instruct them in the discharge of their duties, either in a body at the courthouse or in the respective townships. In towns an assistant assessor may be named for each ward in said city. Assitant assessors must devote as much time as may be necessary for the performance of their duties during May and June of each year, and will be entitled to receive compensation not exceeding $3 per day as the commissioners may see fit.

The assistant assessors shall begin work the first day of May and shall visit each taxpayer in his township and obtain from him a correct list of each and every kind of property he owns and its true value as near as it can be estimated and shall make a return to the county assessor as early as possible. In case he has not been able to visit all taxpayers by the first of June such tax payers as have not been seen are required to turn in a statement of their belongings at the home of the assistant by June 15.

On the first Monday in July the commissioners and the county assessor will meet as a board of equalization and hear complaints as to the correctness of the assessment made against them. If the commissioners decides to reduce the assessment over the disapproval of the county assessor the assessor can appeal to the state tax commission. The property owner can also appeal to this commission if the board of equalization fails to lower said assessment as requested.

All assessors and assistants are required to take an oath to do their work impartially and they are empowered to require all taxpayers to take oath when listing their property, real or personal.

ANNUAL CONVENTION NORTH CAROLINA ELKS IN DURHAM

MEMBERS OF THE ORDER HAVE GREAT MEETING—BARBECUE AND BRILLIANT BANQUET FEATURES OF ASSEMBLAGE.

Durham, March 15.—The city of Durham has been given over entirely to the Elks today. Delegates from the various lodges in all parts of the State began arriving early this morning, and every train that has come into the city today has brought its quota to attend the annual convention of Elks lodges of North Carolina.

The city put on its gala attire to greet the laughing, jolly crowds. The stores and business houses are decorated in the most beautiful style. On the large plate glass windows are painted the characteristic emblems of the Elks, supplemented with "Hello Bill, "as a token of the welcome which the whole city extends to the visitors.

At 2 o'clock the visitors and local members sat down to a Dutch luncheon that lacked nothing in the way of edibles and accessories brought from the four corners of the earth. At 4 o'clock the visitors started on an automobile tour of the city, taking in all parts of interest. At 8 o'clock there was a barbecue on the fifth floor of the Duke building, which was really the event of the whole convention.

Judge J. H. Sykes was toastmaster and the following toasts were responded to by the visitors:

"A Word of Welcome"—W. G. Bramham, exalted ruler, Durham Lodge, No. 568.

"Response to Welcome"—J. D. McNeill, district deputy grand exalted ruler, eastern district, Fayetteville Lodge, No. 1081.

"Our Order"—Thos. F. McNulty, chairman board grand trustees, Baltimore Lodge, No. 7.

"The Universe"—Walter Murphy, past ealted ruler, Salisbury Lodge, No. 699.

"The Elk as a Citizen"—L. J. Brandt, past ealted ruler, Greensboro Lodge, No. 602.

"The Growth of Elkdom in North Carolina"—Geo. A. Matton, district deputy grand exalted ruler Western North Carolina, High Point Lodge, No. 1155.

"Friendly Relations Between Elks' Lodges"—W. H. Pace, Raleigh Lodge, No. 735.

"Elk Patriotism"—Louis Goodman, exalted ruler, Wilmington Lodge, No. 532.

"State Association of Elks"—T. C. Daniels, grand exalted ruler, New Bern Lodge, No. 764.

Aged Lee County Physician Killed

Sanford, N. C., March 15.—In a dispute over an old account amounting to less than two dollars between Paul Wood and Dr. J. L. Cox, who were close neighbors, living within a few hundred yards of each other, about six miles southeast of here, Wood became angered and struck Dr. Cox over the head several times with a piece of iron pipe, fro mthe effects of which Dr. Cox died in two hours. The affray occurred at D. W. Cox's saw mill, near their homes. Dr. Cox was i nhis eightieth year and leaves a wife and seven children, all grown up, while Wood is a man about forty years old and also leaves a wife and several small children. He made his escape but it is reported that he was captured last night near Swans. Wood was a native of this county but spent several years in the turpentine district of Alabama. Dr. Cox was an old Confederate soldier and practiced medicine before and during the

"GO SOUTH, YOUNG MAN!"

In an interview given out in Chicago Congressman Champ Clark promulgated the above bit of advice, amending the advice of the late Horace Greely, who advised the young men of the East to go West.

There is nothing new to Southern people in the statements of the Missouri Congressman, but the misinformation current in the North and in some sections of the West in regard to the South leads to the conclusion that his views may have been new to many of the people of Chicago. Mr. Clark's views of the South are sound, however; and his prophecies will be fulfilled. Here is a part of what the Missourian said to the Chicago people through the newspapers:

"The South is the place, and my advice is to go there. You won't eat as much as you do here in the North. If you do, you'll die. Your clothing must be lighter and therefore less expensive. You won't have to buy fuel to speak of and you can allow your horses to graze out of doors the year around.

"Believe me, the South is the poor man's land, and you'll live to see the day when the South is going to be the richest part of the United States.

"Why say, I know a man who made $15,000 in one year off three acres of lettuce. Sounds fishy, boys, doesn't it? true though, for I took the pains to find out. It's a great country, boys, and if you want a good tip, follow my advice. That is, go early to the Southland and grow up with its progress."

Mexican war stories have entirely supplanted Dorothy Arnold news in the nawspaper headlines.

Baseball language is again heard in the land and the gladsome tones are music to the ears of the fans.

Spring poetry is appearing in the newspapers, and the Weather Man is acting as if he had it in mind to see that it gets frostbitten.

This talk about Woodrow Wilson as Democratic candidate for President is being heard on all sides and it is being received with favor by many good Democrats.

Good morning! How is the health of President Diaz? Have the powers that control the United States decided that the old man is too sick to hold on to his job?

Money moves the world nowadays. The money invested by United States millionaires and corporations in Mexico is undoubtedly moving the United States army against that country.

Uncle Sam is trying to play the part of the big policeman for Maxico. Uncle is able to stay on the job, but there is some question in the minds of citizens who believe in the square deal as to his right to do so.

Charles Scribner's Sons, the New York publishers, have just paid $3,500 for a copy of the first edition of Izaak Walton's "Compleat Angler." As it is usually more economical to buy fish than to catch them, it is now evident that it would be less expensive to compose your own fish stories instead of buying Izaak Walton's.

Secretary of War Dickinson does not believe there will be a movement of troops into Mexico. The Secretary has a job near the men who control and his opinion ought to be worth something, but it would have been well to qualify his expression by saying that the movement into Mexico will be contingent upon the opinion of J. P. Morgan and his pals.

The Charlotte Observer objects to the Telegram's slogan for this city—Going, growing Greensboro. boro is big enough and prosperous enough to excite the envy of other towns. That is the reason for remarks which often appear in the newspapers of neighboring towns, and it is the only reason, as Greensboro is too busy growing to waste time envying the success of other places.

Governor Marshall of Indiana criticises the policy of the administration for not taking the people into its confidence in regard to the movement against Mexico. Perhaps Governor Marshall has not considered the fact that the administration was doubtless taken in by the big business interests which control in Mexico before the war movement was inauguarated.

Don't Kill Robins.

It is against the law to shoot robins. There was a time when it was not, but in those days so many of these beautiful and valuable birds were killed, it looked as though they might be wiped out, by the wholesale slaughter. Just now the robins are here in great numbers. Many of them will locate in Spartanburg for the summer, while others will go farther north to spend the season. They are beautiful harmless birds and any community in which they locate and build nests is fortunate. Don't let the boys kill them —we know the temptation it is to a healthyfi sport-loving boy—but the birds in this country are entirely too scarce to be made a sacrifice just for the sport of killing them.—Spartanburg Herald.

John Wanamaker.

Marchandising in its larger sense covers the whole range of public utilities. The trader stands between the whole body of the world's producers and the world's consumers, a common intermediary for common benefit. His field of operation is confined to no clime or country; it takes in the whole breadth of the planet. He brings to the door of demand the substance of supply. He quickens interchange by finding out what men want and where they can get it, thus bringing the surpluses of one region to make good the wants of another, and doing substantial benefit to both.

The great merchant is a great man. He must necessarily be the master of such intimate knowledge of men, of affairs, of the marvelous agencies brought to bear in overcoming all impediments of time and distance that separate communities and countries, as may be necessary to keep pace with the advanced movement of the age.

Philadelphia has brought such a man to the front in the person of John Wanamaker, who is now celebrating the fiftieth year of his remarkable achievement. He began as a boy at the bottom, and by sheer force of character and of genius broadening to meet all difficulty has forced his way to the top. His career has been a wonder and a beneficence. It is a pleasure to note that the years have dealt kindly with him. This city has no better or more deserving citizen, and none whose loss would be more deeply deplored.—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. Cowles and the President.

When he retired from Congress at the end of his term Saturday, Congressman Cowles certainly had no cause to feel kindly toward the Taft administration. The Congressman "lost out" in about every effort of consequence he made recently to connect his friends with the pie counter. He lost on the collectorship, on the assistant district attorneyship after the President had promised to name his man, and then his postmaster at Salisbury was turned out after he had been in office but a few months, and through the influence of a Democrat at that. It is doubtful if the Congressman's private opinion of the President could, with propriety, be publicily expressed.—Statesville Landmark.

Volunteer State Wins In Fight for the Joint Postmaster.

Bristol, Va., March 15.—The controversy over who was to be the postmaster of Bristol, a Virginian or a Tennesseean, has terminted with the appointment of Dr. Alvin J. Roller, a Tennesseean.

The fight was between Representative Slemp, of the Ninth Virginia district, and the late Representative Brownlow, of the First Tennessee district. To begin with Gaylord E. Goodell. Mr. Slemp's choice, was originally named, but the president withdrew the nomination at the request of the late Congressman Brownlow. Representative Sells, who qualified on March 4, had been in Washington only a few hours until his candidate was named.

Dr. Roller has given bond and will at once take charge of the office. He is a wealthy citizen and business man and a member of the City Council of Bristol, Tennessee.

"I guess so."

"Did you see anybody there who was dressed in better taste than I?"

"Nope."

"And think how cheaply I got it made. Do you remember that pink dress I had two years ago?"

"I dunno."

"Oh, yes, you remember it, John, the one I had made when I went to St. Louis. Would you suspect that I have had all the beaded trimming from that gown put on this one?"

"No."

"Well, I have. If I had bought it new it would have cost $25. Don't you think I manage well?"

"Uh, huh!"

"Do you suppose there's another woman in this town who dresses as splendidly as I do on what you allow me for clothes?"

"I didn't look around much."

"Did you ever see me when I looked better?"

"I guess not."

"Think what it means to you when I make such a fine appearance. Everybody must get the impression that you are able to give me a much larger allowance than you do for clothes. It gives the impression that you are prosperous. Can't you see what an advantage it is to have people get such an idea?"

"I've never noticed it."

"Oh, pshaw! One might as well talk to a stick as to you!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

constipation permanently by proper personal co-operation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, when required. The forming of regular habits is most important and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. To get its beneficial effects, buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is never classed by the well-informed with medicines which make extravagant and unfounded claims to cure habitual constipation without personal co-operation.

THE VOICE OF GOD.

Hearken! Hearken!
Shall we hear the lapsing river
And our brother's sighing ever
And not the voice of God?
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

SWEET INNISCARRA.

IN Sweet Inniscarra, on the banks of the Lee,
Where it winds itself gracefully down to the sea,
I plucked a dear flower as alone it grew here,
A sweet little violet, pure and so fair.
Beside it a shamrock, though modest itself,
Good luck brought to all who held this dear elf.
So between the two flowers sure I'd have no debate
When they said, "My boy, stop now, for here lies your fate."

In sweet Inniscarra, in sweet Inniscarra,
Remain here, my boy. There's one who's so true
In sweet Inniscarra; in sweet Inniscarra
The girl of your heart is waiting for you.

"If you're looking for true love," the violet said,
"Sure this is the spot, lad, where it's born and bred,
Where colleens are true as the bright stars above,
Where the boys they have given their lives for true love."
The shamrock then said: "It is true, ev'ry word.
Although I've been silent, the vi'let I've heard,
And I'll vouch for their virtue, for which they would die,
In that little green island whose emblem am I."

—Unidentified.

CHEERFULNESS.

If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness;
If I have moved among my race
And showed no glorious morning face;
If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not; if morning skies,
Books and my food and summer rain
Knocked on my sullen heart in vain,
Lord, thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake,
Or, Lord, if too obdurate I,
Choose thou before that spirit die
A piercing pain, a killing sin,
And to my dead heart run them in.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE LOW BACKED CAR.

WHEN first I saw sweet Peggy
'Twas on a market day.
A low backed car she drove and sat
Upon a truss of hay.
But when that hay was blooming grass
And decked with flowers of spring
No flower was there that could compare
With the blooming girl I sing.
As she sat in the low backed car
The man at the turnpike bar
Never asked for the toll,
But just rubbed his ould poll
And looked after the low backed car.

In battle's wild commotion
The proud and mighty Mars
With hostile scythes demands his tithes
Of death in warlike cars,
While Peggy, peaceful goddess,
Has darts in her bright eye
That knock men down in the market town
As right and left they fly,
While she sits in her low backed car,
Than battle more dangerous far,
For the doctor's art
Cannot cure the heart
That is hit from that low backed car.

Sweet Peggy round her car, sir,
Has strings of ducks and geese,
But the scores of hearts she slaughters
By far outnumber these.
While she among her poultry sits
Just like a turtledove,
Well worth the cage I do engage
Of the blooming god of love.
While she sits in her low backed car
The lovers come, near and far,
And envy the chicken
That Peggy is pickin'
As she sits in her low backed car.

Oh, I'd rather own that car, sir,
With Peggy by my side
Than a coach and four and gold galore
And a lady for my bride,
For the lady would sit forninst me
On a cushion made with taste,
While Peggy would sit beside me,
With my arm around her waist,
While we drove in the low backed car
To be married by Father Mahar.
Oh, my heart would beat high
At her glance and her sigh,
Though it beat in a low backed car!
—Samuel Lover.

JOSEPH RODMAN DRAKE.

GREEN be the turf above thee,
Friend of my better days!
None knew thee but to love thee
Nor named thee but to praise.

TEARS fell when thou wert dying
From eyes unused to weep,
And long where thou art lying
Will tears the cold turf steep.

WHEN hearts whose truth was proven
Like thine are laid in earth
There should a wreath be woven
To tell the world their worth.

AND I, who woke each morrow
To clasp thy hand in mine,
Who shared thy joy and sorrow,
Whose weal and woe were thine,

IT should be mine to braid it
Around thy faded brow,
But I've in vain essayed it
And feel I cannot now.

WHILE memory bids me weep thee,
Nor thoughts nor words are free,
The grief is fixed too deeply
That mourns a man like thee.
—Fitz-Greene Halleck.

ALADDIN.

WHEN I was a beggarly boy
And lived in a cellar damp
I had not a friend or a toy,
But I had Aladdin's lamp.
When I could not sleep for cold
I had fire enough in my brain
And builded, with roofs of gold,
My beautiful castles in Spain.

Since then I have toiled day and night.
I have money and power good store,
But I'd give all my lamps of silver bright
For the one that is mine no more.
Take, Fortune, whatever you choose.
You gave and may snatch again.
I have nothing 'twould pain me to lose,
For I own no more castles in Spain.
—James Russell Lowell.

FOLEY KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

Two Hairdressings Yearly.

In Abyssinia the dressing of a young woman's hair is effected in the following manner: The girl seats herself upon the ground; another woman, armed with a wooden comb, squats before her. With this weapon she attacks the knots, pulling and tugging at them until they are straightened out in some degree. Then a portion of the hair is caught up at the nape of the neck; the remainder is permitted to remain loose upon the shoulders. This coiffure is supposed to remain in order for some time, as the process is repeated only once or twice a year.

Falling Leaves.

It is not every one, even in these days of close nature study, who knows that leaves fall because they are actually cut off from the stem by a layer of cork that forms across the base of their stalks. This process is explained very strikingly by Professor Boulger in Knowledge, and, what is more, he points out that no nourishment is left in the dead leaf, but only the waste products of vitality, of which the tree is well rid.

NOTICE OF NEW REGISTRATION AND ELECTION.

The following ordinance was passed by the Board of Aldermen on the first Monday in March, 1911:

Be It Ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Greensboro:

Section 1—That for the purpose of elections, the City of Greensboro be and the same is hereby divided into two precincts. That that portion of said city lying west of Elm street shall constitute one precinct to be known as Morehead Precinct, and that the City Hall shall be the voting place in said precinct; and that portion of said city lying east of Elm street shall constitute another precinct to be known as Gilmer Precinct, and that the building occupied by the Eagle Hose Company shall be the voting place in said precinct.

Sec. 2—That for the approaching election in May a new registration of voters be and the same is hereby ordered, and that the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to give fifteen days notice of said new registration by publication in the Daily Record, Greensboro Telegram and the Daily News, newspapers published in said city, and ten days notice of the election at the Court House door as required by the Charter of said City.

Notice is hereby given, in conformity with said Ordinance and the Charter of the City of Greensboro, of said new registration; and for the said new registration and the election to be held on the second day of May, 1911, for Mayor and Commissioners and Judge of the Municipal Court, John H. Rankin is appointed Registrar for Morehead Precinct, and John W. McNairy is appointed Registrar for Gilmer Precinct.

The Registration Books to be opened on the last Monday in March and closed the second Saturday before the said election.

By order of the Board of Aldermen.

BIRDS ON THE WING.

Wonderful Feats of Gliding Performed by the Vulture.

On the horizon in tropical countries there often appears a small black point visible only to the practiced eye. The point increases in size as it approaches. It is the sailing bird par excellence, the vulture, says the Strand Magazine, returning to its hollow in the rock a dozen miles away.

A glider who sails magnificently upon its outstretched wings, without a beat, without the slightest deviation from its perfectly straight track, it thus traverses the space from one horizon to the other, again becomes an imperceptible point and disappears, leaving the spectator marveling at the simplicity with which nature solves a problem of mechanics which appeared impossible to man.

When one observes a sea eagle perched upon a lofty cliff it may be remarked that in order to quit its eyrie it waits until a gust of wind arises, then it lets itself fall forward with extended wings, gives a beat or two as it turns, brings itself to face the wind and thus mounts without a wing beat hundreds of yards high.

A gliding bird so sets its wings that the air currents make an angle with their plane. The wind thus sustains its weight and gives it at the same time a forward movement. If its force is stronger than is necessary to obtain these two effects it produces a third effect—the bird mounts into space without a wing beat. If the air suddenly became calm the bird would fall, but the fall would be astonishingly slow.

Professor Drzewiecki has calculated that a gliding bird at a height of 1,200 yards at the moment when it commences to descend with motionless wings can by setting them at the most favorable angle touch the ground at a horizontal distance of about fifteen miles. If the wind fall large birds can always, with a few wing beats, attain an altitude where they will find a wind which will permit them to continue their journey "on the glide."

The gusts and eddies of the wind are, of course, great disturbers of flight, and few birds attempt to struggle with a tempest. Even the strongest fliers have not from this point of view so much boldness as they generally get credit for. Thus the stormy petrel is so named, not because it braves the storm, but because as soon as a storm threatens it will often seek for refuge on a ship's rigging and thus foretell the tempest. And if the albatross loves the stormy waves it is only because it frequently alights upon the water, where it often sleeps securely to the rocking of the billows.

Origin of the Kindergarten.

Kindergarten (meaning garden of children) is the name given by Friedrich Froebel to a kind of "play school" invented by him about the year 1840. The first kindergarten was opened in that year at Blankenburg, near Rudolstadt, but after a needy existence of some five or six years was closed for lack of funds. But in spite of the protest of the Prussian government Froebel's idea held its ground and presently intrenched itself too securely to be driven from the field. In 1854 the kindergarten was introduced into England, and today the "children's garden" is part of the educational system of most of the leading nations of the world.

A Little Weak.

A Cleveland man went out into the country to spend a week. His host, a frugal swain, took him into the cellar shortly after his arrival to test the cider.

"How many barrels of cider did you make this year?" asked the city guy, sipping his beverage from a gourd.

"Just eleven barrels," answered the farmer. "Why, did ye want ter git some?"

"No—oh, no. I was just thinking that it was a pity you couldn't find another apple—you'd have had an even dozen barrels?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CONVENTION OF WOODMEN CLOSED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The North Carolina Head Camp of Woodmen of the World closed its biennial sessions in Greensboro yesterday evening and nearly all of the two hundred delegates have returned to their homes.

A brief synopsis of such work as would be of general interest done at yesterdays' sessions is given below:

A telegram of fraternal greeting was received from the Alabama Head Camp.

Sovereign J. H. Dorton, of Concord, spoke a few words in the interest of the Jackson Training School and was followed by several other members. As a result voluntary contributions were showered into collection baskets until they totaled about $100.00.

Asheville was the unanimous choice of the convention for its next meeting place and the time was fixed as the second Tuesday in March, 1913. Hendersonville was a rival but withdrew in favor of its neighbor city.

At 2 o'clock the delegates gathered at the court house and had a group picture taken. This will be used in the writeup of the convention in the Sovereign Visitor, the official organ of the Woodmen of the World.

At 2:45 the delegates took a car ride to the White Oak mill as guests of the local camp of Woodmen and passed through the large buildings of the mill property.

Returning the convention went into its last business session.

Resolutions of thanks were voted the local camp of Woodmen, the city of Greensboro, the press of the city and others who had contributed to the comfort and pleasure of the delegates.

A communication from Sovereign Commander J. C. Root was read in which he praised the remarkably creditable work of jurisdiction "W" and mentioned the very low death rate reported from this State.

This convention has been in for business strictly and twice voted down a banquet proposition. Late in the afternoon, however, a "twilight" committee was announced who were arranging an entertainment on the side and outside the convention proper.

At 7 o'clock the beautifully impressive degree work was exemplified by a uniformed team from a Charlotte camp. This closed the convention.

NEWS OF THE STATE CAPITAL

Raleigh, March 15.—Governor Kitchin granted pardons today to M. L. Winner, sentenced at April term, 1910, of New Hanover Superior court, to six months on the roads for retailing; Henry H. Smith, convicted of arson February, 1904, in Richmond county and sentenced to fifteen years in the State's prison; Melvin Parker, sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary for assault with intent to commit rape in Durham county September, 1899; Charles Gibson, sentenced to eight months on the roads of Wake county September, 1910, for assault with a deadly weapon; Herbert Groom convicted of retailing in Pender county and sentenced March, 1910, to six months on the roads.

Guilford Company Incorporated.

A charter is granted by the secretary of state to the Guilford County Co-operative Supply Company, of Greensboro, general merchandise, authorized capital $100,000, the principal incorporators being C. T. Weatherly, H. L. Cannon and John W. Wharton, all of Greensboro. The Snider-Umstead Company, of Durham, changes its name to the Snider-Wilcox-Fletcher Company. Arthur L. Wilcox is president and R. L. Fletcher, secretary.

Cost of State Printing Reduced.

By the terms of an act passed by the recent Legislature according to the views of the office of the commissioner of labor and printing, the cost of the State's printing for the ensuing two years will be reduced by at least $15,000. The law is the result of a careful comparison of all printed matter and the cutting out of duplications and the consolidation of similar matter into one volume that formerly required two or more. The purpose of the law is to confine state publications to actual rather than apparent necessity. It also provides for a uniform regularity in size, binding and general style of publication, an end greatly to be desired, when the former practice of a different style for each department is considered.

Seaboard Hearing.

The hearing before the Corporation Commission in the matter of requiring the Seaboard Air Line to operate an additional local passenger train daily between Raleigh and Hamlet will be resumed Thursday at noon. The petitioners urge that a train be put on to leave Raleigh in the forenoon and go to Hamlet, returning in the afternoon, insisting that it is badly needed. A large delegation of those interested will be here to attend the hearing, the first sitting of which was held two weeks ago.

Boll Weevil Belt The Place to Grow Peanuts

Washington, March 15.—The possibilities for the profitable cultivation of the peanut in the Southern States, especially in the cotton bool weevil belt, where this insect has rendered it almost impossible to grow cotton with success are pointed out in a bulletin on the "peanut" just issued by the Department of Agriculture. In fact, it is shown that the peanut may be grown in the boll weevil district in the South with much more profit than the white staple. When the value of the commercial peanut crop of the United States for 1908 was estimated at $12,000,000 the wonder is expressed that this article of food is not more generally cultivated, particularly in the South and Southwest, where it can be grown at great profit.

The demand for the peanut as an article of food is constantly growing. In this connection the interesting fact is developed that this country is a large purchaser of peanut oil from abroad, while there are thousands of acres of waste lands in the South capable of producing enough peanuts to keep the cotton seed oil mills running and furnish more than enough oil for home consumption.

That the pea cultivation of the peanut is a profitable industry may be seen from the figures of the bulletin. An acre of first-class peanuts, calculating the yield at a ton of vines, worth from $8 to $10 and 60 bushels of peas, worth $40 to $60, will give an income of $48 to $70. The cost of growing an acre of peanuts is variously estimated at $12 to $25, thus showing a net return of $36 to $45. This above the average for the crop, as now grown in the United States, it is stated, but decidedly lower than may be expected under favorable conditions and proper cultural methods.

The Springtime Moon.

Oh, ambient torch of springtime night
Swung in a sky so blue!
The moon, the moon of magic light
On fairy paths of dew!
Oh, radiant dancer of the dream
That doth on silver feet
Dance by the valley and the stream
And on the young green wheat!
The springtime moon, the lady moon,
The white bloom of the skies,
In whose sweet arms to sleep's low tune
The slumbering midnight lies!

On hill and dell the fairy spell
Of springtime from her flows,
And silver rings the fairy bell
And softly wakes the rose.
Who lift to moon and star
On trembling echoes low and long
The lilt of the guitar!
The springtime moon, the dainty moon,
The silver-white and frail,
Beyond whose void the great stars swoon,
The circling planets pale!

Oh, beacon swung in slow, far bloom
Of mist and fairy light,
To lead the pageants of perfume
Adown the whispering night;
The butterfly and dragon moon
The soft beam on the hill
Whence to the bullfrog's hoarse bassoon
Walks in the daffodil!
The springtime moon, the misty moon,
The moon whose light we follow
To find Miss Mary and find Miss June
With red lips in the hollow!

quisition to our museum collection. The flag is of peculiar design; it has red and blue stripes, instead of red and white, as the present United States flag, and blue stars and white field, instead of white stars and a blue field as now. It is nine feet long and four and one-third feet wide.

"It is with the deepest sorrow that we have heard of the death of one of our most prominent directors, S. Wittkowsky, of Charlotte, who was one of the first stockholders, a liberal benefactor, and for years a very active director of the company. Suitable resolutions to his memory should be adopted by this board. I forwarded a telegram of condolence in the company's name at the time of his death.

"Visitors and others interested in the history of the battleground and in the work of the Guilford Battleground company are constantly inquiring for information. We should have prepared a pamphlet, giving a sketch of the incidents of the time which led up to the battle of Guilford courthouse; likewise a sketch of the work which has been done by the Guilford Battleground company since its organization. This pamphlet should be illustrated with pictures of the chief participants in the battle and with views of the grounds as they are today. Such a pamphlet could be prepared at small cost. We could probably sell enough at 50 cents each to pay for them. A pamphlet of this kind would do much towards putting the battleground prominently and accurately before the public.

"Gen. Philip Reade, brigadier-general of the United States army, retired, and a prominent member of the monument committee of the Valley Forge Pennsylvania Battlefield association, was a recent visitor to the battleground and was greatly pleased with what he saw. He has left a letter containing suggestions, for our procedure in connection with the Greene monument, which will be submitted at this meeting. General Reade has had wide experience in this work."

Resolutions were offered for the late S. Wittkowsky, of Charlotte, as follows:

"Whereas, We have learned with great grief of the death of our director, Mr. S. Wittkowsky, of Charlotte, N. C., and

"Whereas, We have suffered a deep loss and desire to bear testimony to the great worth of the deceased as a man and his steadfast, earnest devotion to every public duty:

"Resolved, 1. That this company had no truer or more devoted friend than Mr. Wittkowsky. He was one of our first stockholders, a liberal benefactor and an active director in the company. He was ever ready to lend a liberal hand and encouraging word to every effort made to promote the interest and success of the company.

"Resolved, 2. That this sincere tribute of affection to our departed friend be spread upon the records of the company and that a page with the insignia of mourning around it be set apart for that purpose.

"Resolved, 3. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the family of the lamented deceased with the hope that it will not be considered obtrusive for us to mingle our sorrow with theirs.

"Resolved, 4. That a copy of these resolutions be given the Greensboro and state papers for publication."

Rise of the Notary Public.

According to the best information we have, notaries public originated with the appointment, made by the primitive fathers of the Christian church, of scribes to collect the history of the apostles. Long afterward the office of historian of the apostolic times was changed to a legal employment, such as the attesting of deeds, wills and other writings, so as to establish their authenticity in any other country. It was not until the beginning of the nineteenth century that the work of the modern notary was fairly established throughout Europe.—Exchange.

THIN FOLKS MADE PLUMP

Samose Ideal Flesh Builder Says Druggist Howard Gardner.

This people are simply suffering from want of nourishment!

If you are thin, it is because the food you eat is not assimilated and passes through the system without building up the flesh and tissue as it should.

You can readily get plump and rosy by using Samose a tissue forming food which when taken with the meals, immediately becomes a flesh building and life giving element in the blood.

Use Samose for a few days and increase of life, vigor and weight is felt and you will notice yourself getting plump and rosy.

Samose builds up the system, puts flesh on the bones, brings back the glow of health to the pallid cheek and removes the tired and languid feeling which is the result of exhaustion and low vitality.

Howard Gardner is introducing Samose to his customers and recommends it highly. He gives the best proof of his belief that Samose will do all that is claimed for it by offering to refund the money if it fails to increase the weight and restore good health.

FRECKLES

New Drug That Quickly Removes These Homely Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as a new drug, othine—double strength has been discovered that is a positive cure for these homely spots.

Simply get one ounce of othine—double strength, from Howard Gardner and apply a little of it at night, and in the morning you will see that even the worst have begun to disappear, while the light freckles have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

CONVALESCENTS

After a long wasting illness, convalescents require nourishing food that will not overtax the digestive functions, —and in the way of a strength-restoring and vitality-making tonic, we know of nothing that equals Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil).

Vinol creates an appetite, re-establishes good digestion and helps the daily food to make rich blood, form flesh, strong muscles and impart new life and vitality to every organ in the body. We ask those who need a strength and flesh building tonic restorative to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that if it does not help them we will refund their money without question. THE RUBBER SQUIRRELS.

There are two little squirrels that live in a tree
That's as close to our house as a tree could well be.

And it is about these two little squirrels that I am going to tell you a story.

For several years these two little squirrels have seemed to live in an old oak tree that stands close to our house, and all day long, both winter and summer, they could be seen frolicking up and down the tree and out on the farthest and most slender branches, racing after each other in high glee. But when night came on they disappeared from sight, and we could find no hole or hiding place on or around the tree where they could sleep, and not until last winter did we discover where they lodged.

When we had an old wood pile removed from the back yard one morning these cunning little squirrels were unexpectedly awakened from their slumbers in a hole of an old log, and when they jumped out what do you think we found in their little sleeping room? Why, a big pile of chestnuts, enough to last all winter, and every one stolen from the little balcony outside of my bedroom window, where I had spread them out to dry when they were brought in wet one day. How do I know they took my chestnuts? Well, I will tell you.

One night I heard a great scratching and scampering outside of my window on the balcony, and I thought at once that those sly little squirrels were helping themselves to my chestnuts. So I softly peeped out from behind the window curtain, and, sure enough, there the dear little robbers were, with their mouths and paws full of nuts, having a feast first and then taking away with them as many as they could manage to carry. I did not disturb them, and every night they repeated the same performance, and, although my chestnuts began to diminish, I let them take all they wanted.

Now, don't you think they were clever little squirrels to discover those chestnuts on my balcony and also to hide themselves away at night where no one had been able to find them for so long? I do.—St. Nicholas.

Mohammedan New Year Festival.

Taboots is an Indian festival in connection with the celebration of the month of Moharram, which begins the years of the true Mohammedan. This festival commemorates the death of Prince Hossein, the grandson of Mohammed, who met his death in battle after ten days' fighting against King Omar. The word taboot, from which the festival takes its name, means literally a tomb, and it is always built in front of the homes of some rich and important Mohammedans and under a temporary shed built for this purpose.

The taboots are made from thin bamboo strips covered with highly colored paper, and it is always decorated with isinglass, gold and silver paper, glass balls and much red and green paint. On the ninth day of the festival of taboots the taboots are carried in a procession through the streets of the various cities in India. On the tenth day all the taboots are thrown into some river, and thus ends the Mohammedan festival of taboots.

Warning to Railroad Men

Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroading. Geo. E. Bell, 639 Third St., Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroading left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." Howard Gardner.

Three American Leaguers Have Made 200 Hits

In the ten years that the American league has been a rival of the National league only three players—Napoleon Lajoie, George Stone and Tyrus Raymond Cobb—have turned the trick of making 200 or more hits in a season. The Clevelander was a double-century plant in 1901, 1904, 1906 and 1910 (Larry was with the Athletics in 1901); the St. Louisan was in this highly select class in 1900, while the Thumping Tiger entered the 200-walloped-season society in 1907 and renewed his membership two years later.

In the campaign of 1910 Lajoie smashed all records for the American league clouters by making 227 hits. He took part in 159 of the 161 games played by the Naps, not missing a contest until the last week of the season. The average hits made per game by the pride of Forest City was 1.43, which did not come up to his 1901 record.

Larry was credited with 220 safeties in 1901, the American league then being content with the 140-game schedule. The king was in 131 battles that year, and the average number of hits he made a game was 1.68, the Johnsonites not then having adopted the foul-strike rule and the spitball being unknown.

In 1902 no American league player made 200 safeties. "Cheerful Charles" Hickman, then of the Naps, being the top-notcher among the manufacturers of bingles and having 194 wallops to his credit. There were no double-century men in 1903, Patsy Dougherty setting the pace in making hits that year with 195. In 1905 the American leaguer who made the greatest number of safeties was George Stone, then known as George All Right, and now called by the St. Louis fans George All Wrong. He got 187 drives out of the reach of the fielders. Nineteen-eight was another campaign in which no player tore off 200 or more clouts. Cobb set the pace for the season with 188 safeties. The American leaguers who have made 200 or more hits from 1901 to 1910, inclusive are as follows:

Year.	G.	Av. Hits.	Per G.
1901—Lajoie, Phila.....	131	220	1.68
1904—Lajoie, Cleveland..	140	211	1.51
1906—Lajoie, Cleveland	152	214	1.41
1906—Stone, St. Louis...	154	208	1.35
1907—Cobb, Detroit.....	150	212	1.42
1909—Cobb, Detroit... .	156	216	1.38

Carolina 1910 Pennant Arrives in Greenville.

"Champions of the Carolina Association 1910" is on the pennant which was received Sunday by Mr. A. H. Wells, one of the directors of the local team. This pennant was won last season with the Spinners in the lead from the latter part of May until the end of the season, and only for two short periods was any other team in the association ahead. Charlotte almost duplicated the pennant race in holding second place and was the club which led the race in the early part of the season.

Following the usual custom this blue pennant with its white lettering will first be hoisted at the ball park when the locals play the Charlotte team, the second in the race. It is not known when this game will be played as no schedules have been accepted.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Greenville baseball club was held Thursday at which a resolution was adopted providing for an increase in the capital stock of the local club. Following this resolution the directors will hold another meeting on the 10th of April in the office of Mr. Wm. G. Sirrine, in the Masonic Temple, to consider the proposed increase and the measure will then, very probably, be finally ratified.

At present the capital stock is only about $1800, though something over $3000 is really used in financing the team. The proposition is to increase the capital stock to $5,000, divided into 50 shares of stock at a par value of $100. It is very likely that a few men besides the present stockholders will buy shares.

This increase, if adopted, will give stability to the local club and, though the expenses this year will probably be lower than those last year, provision will be made for any time when a little extra funds may be needed.—Greenville, S. C., News.

"Buffalo Bill" Wants to Be Senator.

Tucson, Ariz., March 16.—Colonel William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," wants to be the first United States senator from Arizona.

Baseball Players Are Among Big Game Hunters

Big game hunters are divided, roughly, into millionaires and baseball players. Almost any ball player would be ashamed to rejoin his teammates at the start of a training trip and not be able to tell of missing a big buck or of hitting a big black bear, but not being able to catch up with it.

Millionaires take to it for the excitement and the outing. But the ball player hunts for the excitement, and to keep him in condition. For there is nothing better for the athlete than getting in the woods and training for miles over snow and over obstacles. It builds up health, clears the eye and nerve and makes him full of vigor and enthusiasm. That's why magnates encourage their players to hunt.

Probably the finest hunting any of the major league players have had this past winter is that enjoyed by Big Jim Scott, the spitballer of the Sox. He hiked over the Wyoming ranges after elk, and got some shots at the grand animals, too. Doughtery had some black bear shooting in Maine with Wash and Parent and Lord. But Mullen, the University of Washington star first sacker, who Comiskey got a couple of years back, had the nerve to tell about killing 100 birds in a day. That settled him. He has to invite the entire team up his way next season for big game hunters do not scorn birds.

Washington has one of the best bird hunters in the land in Germany Schaefer. He used to accompany Comiskey on those famous shooting trips down the Mississippi in the houseboat, and always shot more than his share of ducks and geese.

Players have nothing on the magnates when it comes to hunting, however. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, is perhaps as enthusiastic a huntsman as lives. His offices in Chicago are decorated with heads of big game, including two of the finest specimens of moose in Chicago. Comiskey's office at the ball park has one room literally pannelled with game heads and his floors are carpeted with fine skins of wild animals.

If you ever want to get the last word on guns and their use just have a talk with Owner Tom Noyes, of the Senators, some day. Noyes has hunted this country over from one end to the other. Next to baseball he likes to shoot.

A REQUIEM.

Under the wide and starry sky
Dig the grave and let me lie.
Glad did I live and gladly die,
And I laid me down with a will.

This be the verse you grave for me:
"Here he lies, where he longed to be.
Home is the sailor, home from sea,
And the hunter home from the hill."

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

OLD FASHIONED ROSES.

TH' ain't no style about 'em,
And they're sort o' pale and faded,
Yit the doorway here without 'em
Would be lonesomer and shaded
With a good 'eal blacker shadder
Than the morning glories makes,
And the sunshine would look sadder
For their good old fashion sakes.

I LIKE 'em 'cause they kind o'
Sort o' make a feller like 'em,
And, I tell you, when I find a
Bunch out whur the sun kin strike 'em
It allus sets me thinkin'
O' the ones 'at used to grow
An' peek in thro' the chinkin'
O' the cabin, don't you know!

AND then I think o' mother
And how she 'ust to love 'em
When they wuzn't any other,
'Less she found 'em up above 'em.
And her eyes afore she shut 'em
Whispered, with a smile, and said
We must pick a bunch and put 'em
In her hand when she wuz dead.

BUT, as I wuz a-sayin',
They ain't no style about 'em
Very gaudy or displayin',
But I wouldn't be without 'em,
'Cause I'm happier in these posies
And the hollyhawks and sich
Than the hummin' bird 'at noses
In the roses of the rich.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

BABYHOOD.

WHAT is the little one thinking about?
Very wonderful things no doubt—
Unwritten history,
Unfathomed mystery—
For he laughs and cries and eats and drinks
And chuckles and crows and nod and winks
As if his head were as full of kinks
And curious riddles as any sphinx.

Who can tell what a baby thinks?
Who can follow the gossamer links
By which the manikin feels his way
Out from the shore of the great unknown,
Blind and wailing and alone,
Into the light of day?

—J. G. Holland.

Patti and the Burglars.

Among a collection of autograph letters in London is one from Mme. Patti which relates to a visit paid by burglars to Craig-y-Nos. It contains the following: "I suppose the wretches heard that I had jewels and diamonds and imagined that I left them about loose in the house, always hanging up a few diamond necklaces in the hall with my hat and coat. However, it was an inspiration on my part, going upstairs just at that moment, and while in the corridor I began singing, which made them believe I was going into the room they were in, and consequently frightened them away. I knew my voice had done a great deal for me, but never expected it would save our house from being robbed."

The Cotton Plant.

Cotton is indigenous to all intertropical regions and has a history that reaches away back into the early times. It is mentioned by Herodotus and was known in the time of Mohammed. It does not appear to have been as extensively used in antiquity, however, as it is at present, although it was used to a considerable extent in China as early as the thirteenth century and appears to have been the chief article of clothing among the Indians with whom Columbus came in contact. It was not until the invention of the cotton gin in 1793 that the staple began to be of worldwide importance.—New York American.

Look For the Hose With This Mark on the Toes

There are many kinds of guaranteed hosiery but they are all imitations of the original "Holeproof."

When your husband goes out to buy sox, tell him to insist on "Holeproof"—tell him to look on the toes for our trademark.

This means more than you think—it means that if any holes appear within six months we give you new hosiery free.

But that is not all, the hosiery itself is more stylish and comfortable than any other on the market.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The makers use only the finest and softest cotton from Egypt and the Sea Islands. They pay 33 cents a pound, but could buy ordinary cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The yarn is three-ply in the body and doubled to six-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Common hosiery is made of two-ply yarn throughout yet it costs you as much as "Holeproof."

Comfort is supreme in "Holeproof"—the fabric is as soft and smooth as silk. Style is increased for the hosiery is shaped to fit the ankle like a glove fits the hand.

Men's hose come in eleven attractive colors and women's in six. Price $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Children's hose, in black and tan, at $2 a box of six pairs. Please come in and see this hosiery today—it costs no more than the ordinary.

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or will be sent you direct from you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

For backache is really kidney-ache.

A kidney cure is what you need.

Doan's Kidney Pills help sick kidneys.

Are for backache and urinary ills.

Good proof of their merit in the following statement.

Mrs. J. W. Pettigrew, Main St., Reidsville, N. C., says: "I continue to think Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy for the kidneys and gladly verify the statement I gave in their praise nearly three years ago. For several years I had kidney complaint and there was a dull ache across the small of my back and in my head. I often felt worn out and was miserable in every way, when I got Doan's Kidney Pills. They lived up to the claims made for them, restoring me to good health."

Judge Lindsey Warm Advocate of Woman Suffrage

Harrisburg, Pa., March 15.—"When you give women the right to vote—for you are going to do it, possibly not this year, possibly not at the next session, but at some time before many years have passed—when you do provide equal franchise, I say, then you will laugh at the arguments which have been urged against it and wonder why you ever listened to them."

That was what Judge Ben. B. Lindsey, of Denver, Col., told an audience of hundreds of men and women in the hall of the house this afternoon, and thereby awakened one of the several waves of applause which marked his discourse.

The judge had been talking of the workings of women's suffrage in Colorado since it was adopted, eighteen years ago, and he made plain that he is distinctly and strongly in favor of it confessing that five years ago it was not a matter of great concern with him. His streneous advocacy of the cause was brought about, he said, by the excellent work for civic righteousness and general moral uplift by Colorado women.

The judge, who was brought here by the women's organizations which are striving for woman suffrage in Pennsylvania, was introduced by ex-Bishop R. Dubbs, of the United Evangelical church, of this city, who is a strong advocate of the cause. Much of the visitor's address was devoted to refuting specifically statements by magazine writers which he characterized as false.

The arguments against the ballot for women, which Judge Lindsay declared will evoke only laughter in future years, are those that women who vote will neglect the home; that the votes of good women will be more than counterbalanced by the votes of bad women; that women take no interest in matters political even when they have a vote.

Judge Lindsey ridiculed these arguments, and referred frequently to his personal experience to show them baseless. As to the influence of women in politics, Judge Lindsey said that no trend toward the woman developing the characteristics of the leader or boss has been seen to any extent, her influence being general rather than specific. He did cite several instances, however, where statutes introduced and backed by women have been put through the legislature successfully, and similar attempts by men have failed.

CHAS. MARKHAM MEETS HIS LONG-LOST BROTHER

Identification Is Made Certain and Men Meet in Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., March 15.—President Charles H. Markham, of the Illinois Central railroad, and his brother, John Markham, of Hopkinsville, Ky., met in Memphis Saturday night, the first meeting of the brothers since childhood. Indentification made certain, the two spent an hour between trains at a local hotel and left together for Paducah, Ky.

The whereabouts of his brother, who is some years his senior, was not known to the Illinois Central president until several weeks ago, when he ascertained that he was engaged at his trade, that of a brick mason, in the Kentucky town. A long distance telephone conversation from President Markham's home at Chicag to Hopkinsville at the time, and the meeting of last Saturday night followed.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you success. 520 Laura avenue."

Dot's Soft Answer.

"You have a hasty temper," said Dot's mother to her one day. "Always give a soft answer, dear, for 'a soft answer turneth away wrath.'"

"Soft?" asked the child.

"Yes. Remember this when playing."

Next day Dot was playing on the lawn with a neighbor's boy and his kite. She accidentally broke the kite, whereat the boy angrily said:

"You are a bad, nasty, horrid little girl!"

Dot's eyes flashed, and she was about to answer in a similar vein when she thought of her mother's words about a soft answer. Going up to the boy, she looked earnestly at him and meekly answered:

"Mush!"

Secret of Charlie's Success.

The ground was covered with snow, and little Charlie was trying to dig a path from his door to the sidewalk. All he had to work with was a small shovel, but he worked with a will, for his mother smiled at him from the window where she sat watching.

A man passed, and, stopping to watch the boy, he feelingly remarked:

"How do you expect to get through that drift with such a shovel?"

"By keeping at it," said the boy, cheerfully smiling back at his mother. "That's how."

A sumptuous dinner served on the ground was one of the features of enjoyment.

The program was long and the people declared it the most interesting they had ever enjoyed. It consisted of recitations, dialogues, solos, songs, pantomimes, etc. Miss Blanche Troxler rendered the delightful music on the organ while Messrs. Anderson, Fogleman, Pegram, Hannah and others contributed their parts on banjos and violins.

The boys and girls of the school reflected honor upon themselves, their teacher and parents by the way in which they recited.

The interest which the patrons and the committee manifest in the school contributes to make it one of the best schools of Guilford county.

The teacher was the happy recipient of a handsome jewelry case given by the school and presented by C. M. Pritchett.

The Law Fixes the Fee.

The Greensboro Loan & Trust Co.

in acting as Executor, Administrator, Trustee or Receiver charges a fee fixed by law. The same as an individual would charge. But in the very nature of things a well organized Trust Co. can render better service than an individual. The law regulates trust companies and examines them.
